

Changing Financial Expectations In Today's Economy.

Dan Koblin, Vice President of Pinnacle Consulting Group, Irvine, CA.

- We have all had significant changes in the past 3 years in our jobs, retirement and investments.
 - Find out how to cope and deal with the new economy.
 - What can we expect in the near term and the long term?

Dan consults with a wide range of people from retirees to business owners and highly paid executives. He has worked with and for both large private and publically traded companies in navigating the waters of both stable and unstable economies. He has a special interest in deal with change in our lives, especially as it pertains to our financial well being.
